De film vertelt over een droom die werkelijkheid is geworden. De kinderen in deze film hebben hun eigen school gebouwd, maken hun eigen lessen en hebben de natuur hervonden. Er is geen strikt onderscheid tussen leerlingen en leerkrachten. De kinderen bereiden zich niet voor op het leven of sociale rollen; ze leven in het nu, met elke ademhaling. En aan het eind van hun schooltijd hebben ze een goed diploma!

The school. Humanity's New Future.

"In the foothills of the highest mountain in Europe, in a valley with glacier-fed springs, surrounded by ancient megaliths and natural power spots, there lies a school where the future of humanity is now being forged. A bright future.

For three decades now a Russian visionary Mikhail Shetinin has been shattering both mainstream and 'alternative' views on education, while creating humanity's new future. At his School, the children have designed, built, and decorated their own campus. They cover the entire high-school curriculum in one year and get official Master's degrees by the time they are seventeen. They cook their meals, do administrative work, and write their own textbooks. They contemplate the meaning of the Universe and swim in mountain streams. They dance, draw, sing, and pick strawberries in the surrounding fields. They can shoot from an automatic rifle and fight with swords. They master ancient folk crafts by awakening their ancestral memory, which goes deeper than any written history now known to us. The girls choose not to wear miniskirts, make-up, or flashy jewelry. They have no interest in TV or video games. They do not prepare themselves for 'life' — they live every moment they breathe. They do it all with a mission to redaim our true essence and to bring back to planet Earth the era of awareness and peace... The School will fill you with tremendous inspiration as you witness the enormous creative power revealed in each human being. "
